

Odors and flavors roll off Crusto like water off a duck's back. It just simply refuses to absorb the odor or taste of anything that's cooked in it. And it is odorless and tasteless itself. You can do this with Crusto.

Fry fish in it. Strain it to remove the food particles—and it's as fresh and tasteless as new. Use the strained Crusto for frying onions—there will be no fishy flavor. Use that strained Crusto for baking waffles. Your waffles won't taste of fish or onions. This is the truth. Crusto does not absorb odors or flavors.

Further—It does not smoke or smell when heated "red hot"—no frying odor in the house. And besides all this—Crusto is the best and most economical cooking fat for frying and baking; for doing all that hard or butter can do and doing it all better.

CHARITY PROGRAM TOMORROW NIGHT

Plans Complete for Philanthropic Day. Program In I. O. O. F. Hall

Philanthropic Day tomorrow will be bigger and better than it was a year ago, and it is expected that the latest donation to charity ever received to Tempe will be made on this occasion. The program, just completed and handed out for publication last evening, is in itself worthy of the attention of the townspeople. The event is to occur in the Odd Fellows hall tomorrow evening; the program will commence shortly after eight o'clock and following its completion refreshments will be served by the young ladies of the Normal V. W. C. A. and a general social good time will be enjoyed.

Donations of anything that will be of aid to the poor of the town will be thankfully accepted. Money, bedding, garments, groceries and especially clothes for the young children can be left with the ladies at the hall tomorrow evening and they have made the necessary arrangements for the distribution of the donations where they will do the most good.

MANIA WAS FIRE; BY FIRE HE DIED

Identity of Man Burned to Death North of City

W. H. Howe, who escaped from the asylum three days ago, was the man who was burned to death on the Black Canyon road on Monday.

His identity was discovered by means of a Bible which was found in his side. The fly leaf of the tiny volume bore his name and that of the giver, and with this clue Sheriff Jeff Adams was enabled to solve the second desert mystery within the past fortnight.

The top of the page torn loose from the Bible is slightly scorched, but the date, April 18, 1915, and remaining writing on the page can be clearly discerned. Beneath the date-line is written, "Presented to W. H. Howe by Mrs. A. C. Keach, Tombstone." There are other names and addresses, but it was unnecessary for the sheriff to go beyond the first name for information relative to the identity of the dead man. The sheriff immediately wired Sheriff Wheeler of Tombstone and in response the Cochise county official telephoned him last evening that the man had been committed from his county to the state asylum. He said that his particular mania was burning buildings. The Bible, he said, had been a gift to Howe from a resident of Tombstone.

BERT CLINGAN'S NEW POSITION

Succeeds Lindsey C. Norton As S. W. Cement Co.'s Representative

BERT CLINGAN, (Gary) of the city, one of the best known young business men of the city yesterday received the appointment of Arizona representative of the Southwestern Portland Cement Company. He left last evening for El Paso where he will hold a conference with S. C. McCurdy, general sales manager of the company and will return February 1, when he will take over his new duties. His headquarters will be in Phoenix.

Mr. Clingan will occupy the position formerly held by Lindsey C. Norton. It is understood that Mr. Norton, who left several weeks ago for the coast, will become associated with a New York cement concern and will only return to Arizona for a brief visit. He has made many friends in a business and social way while here, and will be greatly missed.

For the past two years Mr. Clingan has been connected with Warren Brothers Company with headquarters in Tucson. His first association with a paving company was with the Barber Asphalt company and later he became a valued member of the Arizona Asphalt Company.

SMALL BLAZE THIS MORNING—The fire department was called to the west end of the city at two o'clock this morning to extinguish a blaze that had in some unknown manner been started in a small business room situated on Dunlap avenue near Grant street. The fire destroyed the building and also a small structure nearby, the total loss being about $500 with $250 insurance. The property was owned by J. P. Blanton.

MORATORIUM EXTENDED

PARIS, Dec. 28.—Extension of the moratorium for another quarter, but with an important change, has been decided upon by the French government. It has been learned here.

COMES TO PROVE HE WAS NOT UNNEUTRAL

T. St. John Gaffney, photographed on his return from Europe.

T. St. John Gaffney, U. S. consul general at Munich, Germany, whose resignation was demanded by President Wilson because of Gaffney's alleged unneutral acts, has just returned to this country, and will endeavor to show Mr. Wilson that there was no good reason for the recall. Gaffney says he has consular correspondence that will disprove the charges and that he has in his possession testimonials from British and American residents in Munich praising him for his "zeal, fidelity, attention and courtesy in looking after their interests."

QUINCY RESIDENT DIES IN PHOENIX

Charles Poling of Quincy, Ill., died yesterday in the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. C. Provost, east of the city. Mr. Poling, who was one of the best known and most highly respected residents of Quincy, was 70 years of age. For some years Mr. Poling had been spending his winters here and his summers at his Illinois home. He came here about the first of December.

He leaves, besides his daughter, a son, William Poling, who has been in business here for the past two years. He is an uncle of O. C. Poling, the taxidermist and naturalist, who has just returned from an eastern trip. No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral, pending a reply to a telegram to his brother, C. C. Poling, of Quincy.
